ANCESTRY TRAITS AND PERKS

Forest Walk

You can shift into and while within difficult terrain.

Revisit Memory

Accessing memories is as easy as living in the present for you. You gain an edge on tests made to recall lore.

Quick and Brutal

Whenever you score a critical hit, you can take an additional main action and an additional move action instead of just a main action.

Wode Elf Glamor

You can magically alter your appearance to better blend in with your surroundings. You gain an edge on tests made to hide and sneak, and tests made to search for you while you are hidden take a bane.

Wood Wise

When you make a test using a skill from the exploration skill group and at least one of the d10s rolled is a 1, you can reroll one d10. You can use this perk only once per test.

Thingspeaker

When you hold an object in your hand for 1 uninterrupted minute, you can sense whether it bears emotional resonance. Objects with emotional resonance could include treasured gifts, murder weapons, or personal keepsakes. If the Director determines that the object bears emotional resonance, you learn the most dominant emotion associated with the object, then receive a vision that answers one of the following questions:

- What was the name of the person whose emotion is imprinted on this object?
- Why does this emotion linger on the object?
- How long has it been since the object was held by the person whose emotion lingers on it?

After asking one question, you can choose to delve deeper by asking one additional question from the list, but you are then overcome with emotions that do not belong to you. You take a bane on Intuition and Presence tests until you finish a respite, and you can't use this perk again while you suffer this bane.

NOTES

OTHER FEATURES & REFERENCE

FIRE

Disciple of Fire

Your connection to fire allows you to protect yourself from it, even as you rip away the protections of others. You have fire immunity equal to 5 plus your level. Additionally, fire damage you deal ignores a target's fire immunity.

At the start of a combat encounter, you gain a number of surges equal to your Victories. Whenever you spend a surge to deal extra damage, you can make that damage fire damage.

ELEMENTALIST

Persistent Magic

Some of your heroic abilities have a persistent effect entry. For example, the Instantaneous Excavation ability has an effect noted as “Persistent 1.” Whenever you use a persistent ability, you decide whether you want to maintain it, and start doing so immediately after you first use the ability. If you maintain a persistent ability in combat, you reduce the amount of essence you earn at the start of your turn by an amount equal to the ability's persistent value, which enables the ability's persistent effect. All your active persistent abilities end at the end of the encounter.

You can't maintain any abilities that would make you earn a negative amount of essence at the start of your turn. You can stop maintaining an ability at any time (no action required).

If you maintain the same ability on several targets and the effect includes a power roll, you make that roll once and apply the same effect to all targets. A creature can't be affected by multiple instances of a persistent ability.

If you take damage equal to or greater than 5 times your Reason score in one turn, you stop maintaining any persistent abilities. For instance, if you have a Reason score of 2 and are maintaining Instantaneous Excavation, taking 10 or more damage in one turn causes you to stop maintaining the ability.

SLAMMING INTO OBJECTS

When a creature force moves a target into a stationary object that is the target's size or larger and the object doesn't break (see below), the movement ends and the target takes 2 damage plus 1 damage for each square remaining in their forced movement.

If you force move a creature downward into an object that doesn't break (including the ground), they also take falling damage as if they had fallen the distance force moved and their Agility score was 0.

Hurling through objects: When you move a creature into a mundane object, the object can break depending on how many squares of forced movement remain. The cost of being slammed into an object is tied to the damage a target takes for being hurled through it:

- It costs 1 remaining square of forced movement to destroy 1 square of glass. The creature moved takes 3 damage.
- It costs 3 remaining squares of forced movement to destroy 1 square of wood. The creature moved takes 5 damage.
- It costs 6 remaining squares of forced movement to destroy 1 square of stone. The creature moved takes 8 damage.
- It costs 9 remaining squares of forced movement to destroy 1 square of metal. The creature moved takes 11 damage.

If any forced movement remains after the object is destroyed, you can continue to move the creature who destroyed the object.

MAIN ACTIONS

Any creature can take the following main actions, in addition to those listed in their stats:

- Charge: Move up to your speed in a straight line without shifting, and can then make a melee free strike or use an ability with the Charge keyword against a creature when you end your move.
- Defend: All ability power rolls made against you have a double bane until the start of your next turn. You gain no benefit from this action while another creature is taunted by you.
- Free Strike: You make a free strike.
- Heal: Choose an adjacent creature who can spend a Recovery or make a saving throw.
- Trade: You can convert your main action into a maneuver or move action, allowing you to take two maneuvers or move actions on your turn.

EDGES AND BANES

Edge: If you have a situational advantage (edge) on a power roll, the roll gains +2.

Double Edge: If you have two or more edges, the roll is one tier higher instead.

Bane: If you have a situational disadvantage (bane) on a power roll, the roll gains -2.

Double Bane: If you have two or more banes, the roll is one tier lower instead.

- If you have an edge and a bane or a double edge and a double bane, the roll is made normally without any edges or banes.
- If you have a double edge and a bane, the roll has one edge.
- If you have a double bane and an edge, the roll has one bane.

SLAMMING INTO CREATURES

When you force move a creature into another creature, the movement ends and both creatures take 1 damage for each square remaining in the first creature's forced movement. You can also force move an object into a creature. The object's movement ends, and the creature takes 1 damage for each square remaining in the object's forced movement.

It's possible to move a creature or object of a larger size into several creatures of a smaller size at the same time. When this happens, the larger creature in the collision takes damage only once, not once for each smaller creature they slam into.

If a creature is killed by damage from an ability or effect that also force moves them, a second creature they are slammed into still takes damage unless the Director deems otherwise.

You can force move another creature into yourself with a pull or a slide.

Light Up

Effect: The first time each game session that you start an uncontrolled fire or deal fire damage, you gain a hero token. As a maneuver, you can cause your hair and body to burn with harmless flames, or extinguish the flame. While burning, you have the following traits:

You shed light for 5 squares.

You gain an edge on tests made to distract, intimidate, or perform.

As a maneuver, you can set fire to adjacent, unattended flammable objects.
